F. Lukens Injured By Engine

Mr. Francis Lukens was the victim of a serious and painful accident on Sunday last when working around the engine of his light plant.

We understand that the engine was situated in a pit under the floor of the pump shed. Francis was having some difficulty with the engine and had a can of gasoline. As he worked, the pit became full of gas fumes which suddenly ignited by a spark from the engine. An explosion followed which split the roof of the shed and slammed shut the trap door above Francis in the blazing pit. However he managed to get out and with his clothing all afire he jumped into the horse trough.

Bodily burned about the body, face and arms, the injured man was rushed to the Mannville hospital where everything possible is being done to relieve his condition. We are glad to report that the latest news is that he is showing some improvement.

Easterly Echoes

Miss Elfrida Fenton is home for a three week holiday from Lamont with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Fenton.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Jack Savard where friends of Mrs. J. Stougaard gathered with the Battle River W.L. to celebrate her birthday. After a social meeting the guest of honor was presented with a lovely gift together with the best wishes of the W.L. A lovely birthday cake, made and decorated by Mrs. R. King was served with the delicious lunch supplied by Mrs. C. Steele, Mrs. A. McFarland and Mrs. J. Savard.

Mr. Harold Morse and Mr. S. Fenton were business visitors in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fenton left Friday to visit relatives at many places including Cent. Napan, Apohque and St. John in N.B. They intend visiting former residents of this district in Toronto on the return trip. They were accompanied to Montreal by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter where Mrs. Carter will attend the sessions of the LOBA Grand Lodge of British America. From there they plan to go Truro N.S. to visit Mr. Carter's brother and also relatives in N.B. Miss Marion Longmire of Lamont is spending part of her holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fenton.

Mrs. Alf Bacon had the misfortune to suffer facial burns from lye while assisting her husband to clear a drain stoppage.

Don't forget the Roseberry FUA Picnic on July 6th.

The meeting day for the Battle River W.L. has been changed to the first Thursday of each month. More details next week.

We understand the road north of the highway between sections 26 and 27-45-8 is going to be opened.

Irma Welcomes Visitors

All Irma and district are glad to extend a welcome to Betsy McKean and her mother Mrs. J. McKean of Stockton-on-Tees, England.

We all remember Betsy and her older sister Margery who were Irma's guest children during the last World War. The girls told of life in our friendly village made Mrs. McKean wish to see for herself. So, Sunday, June 12, saw Mrs. McKean and Betsy stepping off the early morning "flyer" to be welcomed by Mrs. McKean's brother, Mr. Wm. Lawson.

Mrs. McKean, like her daughter, is exceptionally pleasant and friendly and will fit into our life here just as naturally and easily.

During the war Mrs. McKean whose home was near a large military camp, befriended every Canadian serviceman she could, especially the boys from our district who made her house a second home.

She spoke in glowing terms of all our Irma boys and the little tales she told were so characteristic of each. One moment her eyes would twinkle as she related some particularly delicious nonsense of Lieut. Art Lawson or grew misty with recollections of F.O. Harold Gulbraa whose memory is blessed to us all.

Any debt which Mrs. McKean may have felt she owed here was more than amply repaid in her loving kindness to the Irma boys overseas.

As for Betsy—she is still out there—44 years older than when she left is now a young lady, nearly eighteen but just as frank, unspoiled and lovable as ever. We regret that Ma gey who is now working in an office, was unable to get leave of absence for this trip to Saskatoon to attend the great International Luther League Convention. To date there are well over 4,000 registrations. This is the first time such a Luther League Convention has been held in Canada.

All Irma and district join in wishing Mrs. McKean and Betsy a very happy summer at Irma.

MR. AND MRS. E. W. CARTER MAKING TRIP TO EASTERN CANADA

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter left on the midnight train June 17th for a trip to Eastern Canada. Following the lodge meetings they will go on to New-Castle, N.B., to visit at Mrs. Carter's former home which she has not seen since coming West with her parents 42 years ago.

From there they will travel to DeBert and Truro, N.S., to visit Mr. Carter's old home and his only brother, his last visit 46 N.S. was in the winter of 1914-15.

While in the East, Mr. and Mrs. Carter will visit other relatives and old friends in several other places.

The Divisional School Board have very kindly given Mr. and Mrs. Carter leave of absence until August 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Niskimin have been placed in charge of the Dormitory until school closes.

Glen-Coa Gleanings

Mrs. Lindquist's plane trip, as a result of being winner in the Pringle Hatcher contest, took place on Friday, June 10. Her daughter, Mrs. Nyblom of Edmonton, accompanied her. They took off from Edmonton at 7 a.m., arriving in Lethbridge at 10 a.m. There her son, Pete Lindquist of Taber, met them and they had several hours of sight-seeing in that city. On their return they stopped briefly at Calgary. They reached Edmonton again at 8 p.m. Mrs. Lindquist enjoyed her first plane ride immensely, and does not hesitate to recommend this form of travelling to her friends. (We'll all be on our toes next year for another contest, no doubt.)

Examinations, picnics and nearing holiday-time are mingling with great confusion in the minds of children and teachers these days. We hope the first item has priority.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Halvorsen on their brand new Mercury.

Isaac Lindquist is also having a turn at holidaying. He and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fenton are accompanying Pete Lindquist on a motor trip to Montana.

Sharon Luther League

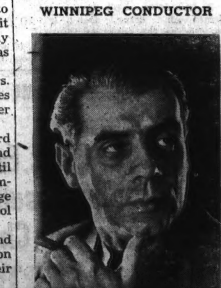

Sharon Luther League had a special Pocket Testament program last Sunday evening, under the direction of Eunice Satre. The open Bible, flanked by lighted candles, drew all eyes. The topic, "Thus Saith the Lord," was ably presented by Ralph Erickson and Mrs. M. Reitan. The musical numbers were as follows: a solo, Ludwig Hollingsen; a girl's trio by Eunice, Lilly and Arlene; a duet by Mr. and Mrs. M. Reitan; a quartet, Arlene, Lilly, Ralph and Gordon. Several of our Leaguers are looking forward with eager anticipation to June 29th when they will be able to Saskatoon to attend the great International Luther League Convention. To date there are well over 4,000 registrations. This is the first time such a Luther League Convention has been held in Canada.

CARD OF THANKS

Members of the Sharon Ladies Aid wish to thank everyone who helped make the Lawn Social at Nilsen's home such a success. Especially do we extend our thanks to the young people for their help and J. C. McFarland and Co. for donating the coffee. Thank you one and all.

Land Of Opportunities

TO THE SETTLERS who came here when Canada was a new country it seemed to offer unlimited opportunities. Some brought a little with them except a willingness to work and a desire to succeed in a new country. Many of them did achieve success in establishing farms and businesses, and in developing the resources of the country, and we owe a great deal to the imagination and industry of these people who laid the foundations of the nation which we have today. While Canada in the past did offer great opportunities to those who were willing to work, it should not be assumed that because there are now no more transcontinental railways to be built, no great tracts of land to be brought under cultivation, and new frontiers to be pushed back, that there are no longer the opportunities for success which there were in the earlier times.

A Future For Young People

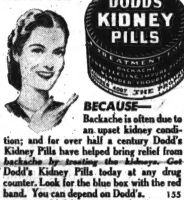

While the nature of things to be achieved has changed, there are still as many opportunities in Canada for those who wish to succeed, as there ever were. A recent Monthly Letter, issued by the Royal Bank of Canada, points out to the young people of today that there is still need for people "with ambition, energy and enterprise" to help to build the new industries which are being established here. Drawing attention to the steady expansion of Canada's economy, the letter states that in 1948 alone capital investment in this country amounted to $3,000,000,000 which was used for new machinery, new equipment, and buildings for our industries. "Every dollar of investment means more opportunity for young people. Every dollar is backed by the judgment of astute men that it is justified by Canada's prospects," the letter says.

Many Problems In Agriculture

There is no doubt of the present expansion of industry in Canada, and little of its future success, if it is guided by people with an understanding of markets and of economic conditions at home and abroad. In agriculture much progress is also being made and there are many opportunities for those who have courage, initiative and confidence in the future. Agricultural scientists are now working on many problems related to farming. Soil drifting, erosion, lack of moisture, lengthening of the season for grazing and the quality of grass, are only a few of the subjects which are being investigated with the object of improving farming methods here. While solutions to difficulties may be found in the laboratories, it remains for farmers with an interest in their land and concern for the future of the industry to undertake new practices and put into practical use the results of scientific research. It is upon people, not upon conditions, that the future of Canada turns," the Royal Bank Letter states, and a little consideration of the subject shows that there are still many challenges and many opportunities for those who are willing to work and have faith in Canada's future.

When Your BACK Begins to Ache

REACH FOR

Young Lad Acts Quick To Warn Train Crew

ZENON PARK, Sask. — Quick thinking and a fast pair of legs made Robert April, 16-year-old farm boy, a hero in this northeastern Saskatchewan district. Recently he ran a mile to warn train officials of a washout.

M. D. Thompson, superintendent of the Canadian National Railways at Saskatoon, said that "everybody who was on the train that night is grateful to that boy."

He related that the youth came across the washout while inspecting his father's farm after a cloudburst that inundated the countryside. He saw 50 feet of washed-out roadbed, and six feet of water in the ditches. The rails hadn't shifted, but in some places the ties were just hanging over the water.

The youth ran a mile down the track to the station, arriving with his warning just as the train pulled in.

The Zenon Park station is on the Saskatoon-Melfort-Arborfield line which operates twice weekly.

"I can tell you," said Mr. Thompson, "he and his family are going to be hearing further from us."

United Kingdom To Buy Surplus Canadian Fruit

OTTAWA.—Canada has completed a deal with the United Kingdom to ship 1,300 tons of surplus raspberries. Shipments are expected to start this fall.

The berries were purchased by the Federal Government from British Columbia growers last year as a price-support measure.

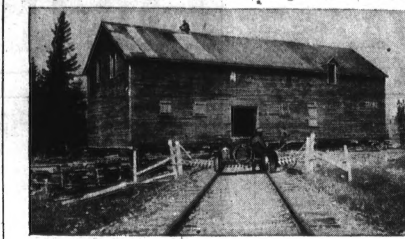

Stored in 40-gallon barrels, the product had become a "white elephant" for the government until the U.K. reacted to a suggestion that the berries could be obtained at a rock-bottom price.

There was no indication what the Anglo-Canadian berry contract amounted to but it is believed to mean a sharp loss to the government. The surplus commodity was taken off the growers' hands by the Special Products Support Board for about $300,000.

In the U.K. the berries will be used in making jam.

There is no soda in soda water—its carbon dioxide.

Casey Jones Never Saw A Sight Like This

Here, while two of three section men sit on their work car watching the unusual proceedings, the building is being moved over the Canadian National Railway's tracks at Fairford, Man. Experimenting In Growing Cotton On The Prairies

MEDICINE HAT.—Farmers soon may be "totin' them bales" in from more than 100 localities in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

S. F. Scott, chairman of the Medicine Hat development committee currently experimenting with growing cotton, said that young cotton sprouts now are about an inch high here.

The sprouts are growing on a half-acre experimental plot—largest of a series of such plots scattered across southern Saskatchewan and southern Alberta.

Mr. Scott said the cotton seed had taken Alberta's cold weather "without a shiver." He said that with the long hours of sun and hot summer prevalent here, he saw no reason to prevent an important cotton industry being established in western Canada.

About 100 pounds of seed, obtained from Veron, Texas, is growing in the experimental plots.

Majority of the plots in Saskatchewan are at Swift Current and Virdia. Those in Alberta are mainly concentrated in the southeastern section with others at Brooks and at Bowness, on the outskirts of Calgary.

Potato Acreage Below 1948

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that, according to farmers' intentions as at April 30, 1949, plantings of potatoes in Canada this year will amount to 481,400 acres, a decline of 5 per cent. from 508,200 in 1948 and the smallest acreage since 1916.

The Eastern provinces account for all the drop with an indicated acreage of 380,500 acres, a drop of 7 per cent. from 1948, while in Western Canada the plantings will be a shade over 1948 at 101,100 acres against 100,800.

Following are comparative figures:

Manitoba	1948	1948
Saskatchewan	26,000	25,300
Alberta	34,600	34,300
British Columbia	22,800	22,800
Western Canada	17,700	17,400
Prince Edward Is.	101,100	100,800
Nov Scotia	44,300	43,200
Nova Scotia	26,000	25,300
New Brunswick	60,400	67,900
Quebec	144,000	155,000
Ontario	111,800	115,300
Eastern Canada	380,500	407,400
All Canada	481,400	508,200

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

"Who yer shovin'?"
"Dunno. What's yer name?"

The doctor entered the patient's bedroom.

"Well, my man," he said to the patient, "did you take the medicine religiously?"

"No, doctor," replied the sick one quickly. "I swore every time I had a dose."

"Your son is making good progress with his violin. He is beginning to play quite nice tunes."

"Do you really think so? We were afraid that we'd merely got used to it."

It was an opening appearance of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, with Stokowski at his most majestic. The music was crashing and thunderous, when suddenly there fell an abrupt and complete silence, beginning a brief but absolute rest in the music.

Out of the stillness there came a high-pitched feminine voice, full of reproach. "But," it said, "I always fry mine in lard."

Critic — "Ah! And what is this? It is superb! What soul! What expression!"

Artist — "Yeah? That's where I clean the paint off my brushes."

"Yes, dear."

"Mamma," asked little Mary, "if I get married, will I have a husband like Daddy?"

"Yes, dear."

"And if I don't get married will I be an old maid, like Aunt Agatha?"

"Yes, dear."

"Mamma, it sure is a hard world for us women, isn't it?"

A man named Dodgin was recently appointed foreman, but his name was not known to all the men under him.

One day he ran across two men smoking in a corner.

"Who are you?" asked one of them.

"I'm Dodgin, the new foreman," he replied.

"So are we. Sit down and have a smoke."

Crop Prospects Bright For U.S.

WASHINGTON.—All signs pointed to a bountiful food supply for Americans this year.

Crop production prospects are "more promising than usual," according to the Agriculture Department's latest forecast.

The outlook is for another avalanche of grain which can be used to fatten meat animals and expand livestock herds. The result should be big supplies of meat, eggs, milk, cheese and butter.

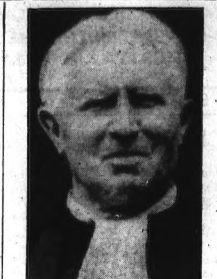

Corn is the basic raw material for meat production. Stocks still on hand from last year's record-smashing crop are at a record high for this time of year. And, the new crop is off to "a very promising start," the department said. Record-high wheat supplies are also in the making, it said, and there will be far more than Americans can eat or export.

The department said that its prediction for "all-crops prospects" for the country as a whole are the "most optimistic" in the 12 years this category of records have been kept.

If prospects are borne out, the harvest may mean (1) lower consumer prices for some foods and (2) a vexing problem of farm surpluses.

The latter may involve increased government controls on farmers to hold down burdensome surpluses and increasing drains on taxpayers under the multi-billion-dollar price support programs.

For Quick, Easy Sure Results Take Your Choice of CERTO or CERTO Crystals

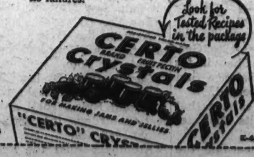

Jam and jelly-making need not be a chore. The sensible, modern way to do it is with the help of CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals. Both are fruit "pectin"—the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jelly"—extracted and concentrated for efficient jam and jelly making. The name "CERTO" is a trade-mark.

Please yourself which you choose... some prefer the liquid—some the crystals. Each ends guesswork and tedious long-boiling. Each gives sure results if you follow the instructions exactly.

Why CERTO Fruit Pectin or CERTO Crystals Make Better Jams and Jellies... Easier... Quicker

1. VERY SHORT BOIL. When you use CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals you need only a ONE-MINUTE full, rolling boil for both jams and jellies. Such a saving of time and work!
2. MORE JAM OR JELLY. Very little juice has time to boil away as it does in old-fashioned, long-boiling. You get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.
3. FRESH-FRUIT TASTE... COLOUR. The lovely taste and colour of the fresh fruit stay in your jams and jellies because the boil is too short to spoil the one or dull the other.
4. NO GUESSWORK. With either CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals you get tested recipes—a different one for each fruit. Follow them exactly and you'll have no failures.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

PA GETS THE FOXES

By Charles Robinson

THE trouble started that morning when Ma said, "Henry, you've got to do something about those foxes. They killed two more chickens."

Ma made a gurgling sound as she sipped coffee from the saucer. "Taint foxes in that barn. Had been, I'd seed them 'fore now. 'Sides, foxes don't stay 'round where people are."

Ma flipped a pancake. "Thelma said she saw one and it was a fox." Pa blew his coffee and sipped some more. "Thelma said this, Thelma said that. Miss Thelma, fancy pants! If there's one thing that woman don't know . . . Thirty-nine, ain't she? Looks to me she'd use some of that 'everlastin' knowledge to get a man 'stead of telling everyone else what to do. How long is she gonna be here?"

"Henry Lipking," Ma said, flipping another pancake, "a fine way to talk about my only sister. You know why she's never married and she'll stay as long as she likes."

Aunt Thelma was a school teacher. She had taken a year from teaching to write a novel about Kentucky and horse racing. She always wore riding pants and shiny boots.

"I never seed a good lookin' woman yet that's worth a durn," Pa mumbled.

"Talking about me, I presume," her southern voice drawled and I looked up to see Aunt Thelma enter. "Well, Henry, if you weren't such a dumb piddler, people wouldn't have to keep telling you everything."

I knew the battle was on so I quietly slipped into the living room.

I was standing in front of the window watching the rain when Pa came in.

"Son," he said, "you go out to the shed and hunt up a shovel and muck. I'm going over to get Alvin Beaufort." He slammed the door and went down the walk, his old gum boots slapping against the back of his legs and sounding like pistol shots.

Alvin was our next door neighbor. He lived on the next farm and was a bachelor. He used to take Aunt Thelma around when they were young, but not any more. Pa said that Alvin was below her dignity. Pa and Alvin returned shortly and we went to the barn. Pa was still complaining. "Durn women, always findin' something for a feller to do when he thinks he's going to get to town."

There is More Than One Way For Love To Work:

"Doesn't make sense that foxes would stay close to the house," Alvin said. "Course they wouldn't." Pa said, "but you can't tell a durn woman nothin'."

They started digging at the corner of the barn. The burrows weren't more than 10 inches deep and the digging was easy because the barn was old and the dirt had rotted. After they had dug about 10 feet toward the centre of the barn the burrow went two different ways and Pa sent me to the house for a flashlight. Aunt Thelma went back with me. Maybe to boss the job or maybe from plain curiosity. When we got back they had dug one branch of the burrow to the end and Pa was digging on the other end, leading toward the shed door and the old pond.

"They might be muskrats. Looks like the den is going straight to the pond," Alvin said. "No," Aunt Thelma insisted, "I know they're foxes."

"Might be minks," Pa said. I had a feeling he was trying to cross Aunt Thelma.

Pa rested on his shovel. "Spect you'd best stand back about 20 feet with the gun," he told Alvin. "Then if they was to run out on me you'd have a chance whichever way they run."

Aunt Thelma climbed up on the wall of the pond. She was dressed in her fancy pants and glitter boots, as Pa called them. Alvin kept stealing little glances at her. "Must be getting close," Pa said and put on his leather gloves and peeped down into the hole with the light. "Can't tell what's in here yet, but he's ready," he told Alvin.

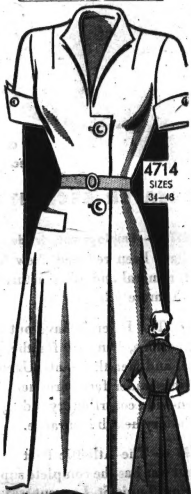

"Foxes," Aunt Thelma said. I saw a gleam in Pa's eyes as he reached in the hole. He brings his hand up and has a skunk by the head. I don't know if he aimed it at Aunt Thelma or not, but I'll always believe he did. The scent hit her full in the face and Pa said, "Foxes!" She threw her hands to her face and started to turn, but she slipped and fell face down in the pond's mud.

Alvin dropped his shotgun and jumped in to pull her out. The mud was knee deep and he was stuck. He hands her out to Pa and Pa helps her up. She wiped the mud from Aunt Thelma's face. The water squashed inside the fancy boots.

"Foxes," she says and starts laughing and Alvin starts laughing. "You'd better help me to the house," she says to Alvin and he goes off holdin' her arm, not seemin' to mind the mud at all.

Prospects Indicate Increased World Supply Of Wheat

OTTAWA.—Prospects indicated an increased world supply of wheat, the bureau of statistics reported in its monthly review.

The last United States report indicated that with average yields on spring wheat, a total of 1,512,000,000 bushels could be harvested.

This would approach the 1947 record of 1,367,000,000 bushels.

Canadian farmers at April 30 planned to seed 3,000,000 more acres to spring wheat this year than last.

A recent report from Argentina indicates that planting of wheat is now under way, with soil conditions mostly satisfactory. No attempts have apparently been made as yet to estimate probable acreage.

Last advice from Australia states that wheat seedling is well under way. It is anticipated that the acreage sown will at least equal last year's 13,000,000 acres.

Favorable weather and moisture conditions have improved crop prospects in many parts of Europe. Reserve moisture, however, is still lacking and more rainfall will be needed shortly.

In France a trade paper estimates the new crop at 256,000,000 bushels, against 300,000,000 bushels last year. The Italian wheat crop is privately estimated at 250,000,000 bushels, the same as last year, and brief reports on crop conditions in Russia, Turkey, Hungary, Poland, Germany and North Africa have been fairly optimistic.

Their interest is a long-term one, because Red Deer has been chosen as the site of the proposed $10 million kraft and bleached pulp mill planned by Alberta Pulp Mills, according to H. M. Simpson, vice-president of Cellulose Engineers, Inc., Seattle, Wash. To date, few details of the plan have been announced, probably because of the current uncertainty in the pulp and paper market, but Red Deer is optimistic. Construction costs of the mill are estimated at $9 million, with $1 million for working capital.—The Financial Post.

There were no electric lights. Simon Big Snake, spokesman for the Indians, said no modern Indian village would be complete without electric lights.

Trash Cover Important!

The trash cover or stubble mulch was developed in the Monarch-Nobleford area of southern Alberta as a protection against soil drifting. Thousands of acres of soil were "tied down" by this method in the "windy thirties". During this dry period the farmers of southern Alberta became expert at producing and maintaining a trash cover. With the advent of better moisture conditions wind erosion, at least temporarily, ceased to be the number one problem on most prairie farms. Unfortunately, however, a more insidious form of erosion, water erosion, took its place. The solution of the water erosion problem is essentially the same as that of wind erosion. Because of this fact, we find that the trash cover, once found only in the dry areas, has become a common farm practice in the moister areas of the Prairie Provinces.

Acts in Many Ways. The trash cover acts in several ways to prevent erosion. It protects the soil from pounding rain. It slows down run-off, allowing water to soak into the ground. The trash, anchored in the surface provides channels through which water percolates into the soil. The result is less run-off, more moisture in the soil, and less erosion.

Types of Machines. The one-way disc, duckfoot cultivator, rod weeder and the various blade machines, are all efficient trash cover implements. The blades work best under the drier prairie conditions, the one-way and duckfoot under moister conditions.

Depth and Speed of Cultivation. To secure a good trash cover, cultivation must be shallow, just below the root crowns is best. Speed of travel must be slow, 3 to 3½ miles per hour gives best results.

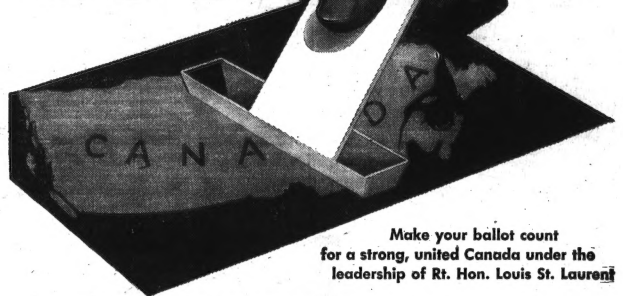

The preservation of our prairie soils is Western Canada's number one conservation problem. The effective use of the stubble mulch or trash cover by western farmers is putting soil conservation into good to the land, it will be good to you.

Viking Items

Geo. T. Gilpin of Vancouver, B.C., has visited the past week with his three brothers and other members of the clan in and around Viking. When Mr. Gilpin as a young man left the Ontario farm he took a course in the Horological Institute, Toronto, where he learned all about the insides of a watch. While taking the two and a half year course he manufactured a hand made watch, excepting the case, crystal and jewels. The chronometer was drafted and made by him in every detail from rough material. He has carried this time-piece fifty-two years and it still runs perfectly. In 1897 he went to fill a position which was waiting for him in Vancouver which had at that time a population of about 15,000. About 40 years ago he gave up watch making and has devoted those years to optical work and still doing so. He expects to be back in Vancouver to celebrate his 75th birthday on June 21st.

The grounds and grove of stately poplar trees surrounding the Prague Hall twelve miles southwest of town made an appropriate and lovely setting for the annual picnic held last Sunday when a large crowd from this and surrounding districts took advantage of the opportunity to again renew friendships and visit with old time friends at this annual outing which has become an institution looked forward to each summer come June.

Festivities began at noon when the ladies of the Prague church served dinner to hundreds of people and to say the least, were well

Last Thursday, June 16th, the grandmothers and great-grandmothers of Viking and district gathered at the United Church Hall as honored guests of the Viking W.I. "Grandmother's Day" is an annual event and a red letter day in W.I. circles. The hall looked very festive, decorated for the occasion with bouquets of flowers and mauve and white streamers.

After a short business session, at which Mrs. H. Rollans, the president, presided, Mrs. John Ash read an excellent report of the W.I. conference held in Edmonton recently. Mrs. Ash was the official delegate from the Viking Branch. Fed with chicken and all the trimmings. During the afternoon the ladies were also busy serving lunches, while outside the hall ice cream and refreshments were served. A public address system operated by Vern Gilpin furnished music and announcements.

In the fast ball tournament Viking defeated Laketford, East Bruce defeated Alice Hill, and in the finals Viking won out over East Bruce.

Many of the visitors also viewed the work being done on the new Prague R.C. church which is in the course of construction.

A photographer from the Edmonton Journal took pictures of the grandmothers and a more gracious looking group it would be hard to find anywhere. After the taking of the pictures the grandmothers put on a skit, in pantomime, under the direction of Mrs. J. Slavik and Mrs. J. Taylor. This was hilarious to see the feast. Mrs. George Hoskins was the winner of the prize.

Mrs. S. Lefsrud and Mrs. W. Comisarow brought the program to a close with the singing of several duets which were greatly enjoyed.

The hostesses, mesdames L. C. McIntyre, D. Cartwright, J. Roddick, P. Nordstrom and W. Pobuda.

A pleasant reunion took place at the home of Mrs. R. Ash last week when her sister, Mrs. Milton Harvey, of Moose Range, Sask., made a surprise call. Mrs. Harvey had not seen her sister for over twenty years and it is thirty years since she had visited the Viking district. Miss Grace Barnes of Hardisty also was present for the happy occasion.

Jas. L. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer.

J. U. Boyer, director and general manager of The Provincial Bank of Canada, who has been elected president of The Canadian Bankers' Association.

J. U. Boyer, newly elected president of The Canadian Bankers' Association was born on a farm at St. Andre Avellan, Quebec, July 30, 1899.

He started his banking career in 1918, entering the services of the Provincial Bank of Canada direct from school. Today he is general manager of the Bank and in addition a director.

It is almost a tradition in Canadian banking for the top officers of the chartered banks to come up the ladder from junior ranks. Mr. Boyer was no exception. He held various positions in Montreal, Ottawa and Windsor, Ontario before his appointment in 1930 as manager of the Bank's main office in Montreal. Six years later, in January 1936, he was made general manager of his Bank and, as such, a member of The Canadian Bankers' Association. He became a vice-president of the Association in Nov., 1945.

Mr. Boyer always has shown a keen interest in social welfare. He is honorary-treasurer of L'Institut Bruchesi de Montreal, Inc. and of Les Champs de Sainte Bruchesi. He is also a director of The Family Welfare Bureau of which he is a charter member. In 1946 he became a director of the Public Health Nursing School of the University of Montreal. He takes an active part in the annual campaign of La Federation des Oeuvres de charite canadiennes-francaises.

PREDATORS OUTLAWS AT LARGE

COYOTES

No. 1 MENACE TO LIVESTOCK AND GAME

A radio commentator on a Western (U.S.) broadcast remarked that drouth was agriculture's number one enemy, but that the coyote now appears to be taking second place. In recent months, reports from farmers all over Alberta indicate that losses in sheep, young cattle, fowl and deer have reached a grave all-time record. Something must be done to control this marauding outlaw while its breeding grounds and lairs are easily accessible.

The individual farmer, while somewhat handicapped by restriction laws and fence lines can at least be on the alert to destroy all coyotes in his own immediate area. The creatures are hard to trap, snare or poison, even where such measures are allowed. The use of planes, wolf hounds, etc., have been quite effective in open country. In bush-lands they cannot do much. Whether a combination of trained trappers, or adequate bounty payments to induce amateurs to take a interest, are the answers, it still remains that an aggressive campaign on the part of both farmers and Government is desirable.

Our Links With India

FOR A CONSIDERABLE TIME India was prominent in the news, which told of internal strife and of the events which led up to that country becoming a dominion in the Commonwealth of Nations. Recently we have heard less of what has been taking place there, but India will always be an interesting country, and one which will in all probability be associated with many more events of historical significance. Covering an area of some 1,220,000 square miles, which is about one-third of the area of Canada, India has a population of 337,000,000. Like Canada, much of the country is used for agriculture, and farming is one of the chief industries. Crops produced there include rice, wheat, barley, cotton, jute, sugar cane, tobacco and many varieties of oil seeds and spices.

A Market For Farm Machinery Canada has many ties with India, both economically and diplomatically. There is a large market there for Canadian products, especially for farm machinery and other mechanical goods which are required for the expansion of industries and the modernization of farming methods, which are proceeding rapidly at this time. As one of the world's largest producers of farm machinery, Canada is considered an important source of this type of equipment by Indian buyers. Diplomatically, Canada is represented in India by a High Commissioner, while the Indian government sends an official of similar rank to represent its interests here. High Commissioners, in diplomatic circles, are considered to be equal in rank to ambassadors.

British Rule Was Impartial The story of the conquest of India and the years of British rule there make up an interesting and colorful chapter of our history. It has been generally agreed by historians that in taking over the country, Britain established order and justice without prejudice and brought many benefits to the people. It appeared inevitable, however, that complete self-government should come to India and the country is now experiencing independence for the first time, although as a member of the Commonwealth of Nations it continues to enjoy certain advantages in respect to trade and defence. Because of the economic and diplomatic links between the two countries, and because India is a sister dominion in the great family of nations which makes up the Commonwealth, Canadians will follow with interest the course of future events in that great country.

SEES LIQUOR PRODUCING CRISIS IN LIFE OF CANADIANS

Claim Coffee Shop Saved By Miracle

BIG RIVER, Sask.—French-Canadian lumberjacks claim a miracle saved a small coffee shop in this northern Saskatchewan district when forest fires practically licked at its doorstep. The wooden structure was left untouched but a box of glass jars six feet from the building were completely fused by intense heat. The lumberjacks explain the "miracle" in this way. According to legend, "balm of Gilead," or black poplar, has special significance because it was used for the cross on Calvary and is therefore sacred. In the construction of the little coffee shop, at the fork of Green and Dore Lakes road, builders used one log of black poplar.

May Use Radar To Check Flight Of Wildfowl

OTTAWA—Wildlife experts from all provinces conferring with Dominion authorities discussed possible use of radar to divert wildfowl from farmers' crops and eliminate damage to cultivated areas. The subject came up at the closed meeting of the provincial-Dominion wildlife conference, but no definite program to safeguard crops by radar was announced and there was no indication how radar would be used.

Seal Hunter Gets Sunburn In Cold North

CHURCHILL, Man.—Seal-hunting, a pursuit usually associated with northern latitudes and cold weather, has given Harry Stroud a bad case of sunburn. Mr. Stroud went out recently to hunt seal, with patches of snow still lying on the ground and the ice on Hudson Bay still a long way from shore. The river is solid, yet so strong are the reflections of the sun's rays that Mr. Stroud's face was badly burned. His lips were so badly affected they became pendulous before he sought attention at Camp Churchill hospital.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

A motorist, driving through Boston, drew up to the curb and asked one of the natives: "My good man, could you tell me where I might stop at?" "I would advise," said the native coldly, "stopping just before the 'at'."

"Don't you think this is a duck of a hat?" the little woman cries, preening herself before a mirror in a hat shop. Hubby, with a caution born of long experience, sneaks a gander at the price-tag. "Yes, dear," he grudgingly admits, "but, please, honey, can't you find a duck with a smaller bill?"

"I'm glad to find you as you are," said the old friend. "Your great wealth hasn't changed you." "Well," replied the candid millionaire, "it has changed me to this extent. 'I'm now eccentric' where I used to be impolite, and 'delightfully witty' where I used to be rude."

Mrs. Pepper: "How well you are looking, Mrs. Smythe." Mrs. Smythe: "Do you really think so?" Mrs. Pepper: "Indeed I do. There isn't a woman of my acquaintance as old as you, who looks nearly as young."

Yin Sing: "What time next train go Denver?" Ticket Agent: "Two-two." Yin Sing: "You no understand. I know train go too-too. I no ask how he go; I ask when?"

Patient: "Doctor, are you sure this is pneumonia? Sometimes doctors prescribe for pneumonia and the patient dies of something else." Doctor (with dignity): "When I prescribe for pneumonia, you die of pneumonia."

"Now this is kind of you, my dear," said the wealthy woman to the little daughter of her poor relations, as she took the parcel containing a birthday gift. "I wonder what it can be?" "It's a fish, I think," said the child. Daddy said it was a sprat to catch a mackerel.

Junior: "Dad, what happens to a ball player when his eyesight begins to fail?" Dad: "They make an umpire out of him."

SPEED DRIVER KILLED—Gilbert G. Armour, 31, Toronto war hero and dirt-track racing driver, died in hospital at Wellsville, N.Y., as a result of car accident. Armour, who rose from lance-corporal to captain in World War II and won the Croix de Guerre, suffered fatal injuries in a six-car racing event held at nearby Angelica. New York state police said Armour was driving a car owned by George Childs, Toronto, in the second heat of the six-car race. He was moving up from fourth to third place when, police believe, he was blinded and lost his bearings in a terrific cloud of dust raised by the cars ahead. The crash occurred as his car was turning into the stretch in front of the grandstand packed with nearly 1,500 spectators.—S.N.S. photo.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE WALL

By C. K. PRIEST

It was dark, no dark that the rain seemed to be pelting him with warm blobs of black ink. There was no light in this darkness, no beacon, no glow of distant village, only a single wavering speck of illusory brightness that appeared and disappeared in the far sky.

Lacking a better guide, Convict No. 614868 followed this vagrant gleam, stumbling, not knowing where his course led.

His escape had been easy, as prison escapes go. The lessons received from Zingo, once known as "The Human Fly", who had been his cellmate because of certain unfortunate checks, had been well taught. Hours of practice until his fingertips were hard and as strong as claws; tiny, almost invisible grips fabricated furtively in the prison shop and cleverly sewn into the soles of his shoes; these, and his will to escape had brought him up and over the high granite wall. Now he had until morning call before the alarm.

He plodded on, following the fragile gleam. He was no fool, to wander in circles in the purposeful wilderness around the prison. Nor would he take to the roads and inevitable discovery. Instead, with dawn, he would orient himself and head north, deep into the back country, until the hue and cry had worn down. A clever man could live well off this country, with its plentiful game, and the rain would cover his tracks.

Convict No. 614868 felt well pleased with himself. It had been carried through neatly. That was the way he had killed the girl who had double-crossed him. Of course, he had been caught and sent to prison, but he was not as smart then as he was now. He would have to do something to make it right with Zingo, who had taught him the trick of climbing.

He kept his eyes on the light that was now his guide. It was hard to follow. Sometimes it disappeared entirely and at other times it seemed to bob up and down. But Zingo, he reasoned, would be caused by the scurrying storm clouds. He managed to keep it directly ahead of him, although it seemed to grow dim as he struggled through the brush. The rain was falling faster, and the night growing even darker. It was that way, he thought, darkest before dawn.

Suddenly he stumbled into something, bruising himself. His fingers explored the cold surface. Another wall? He must have hit the wall between himself and the prison by this time. Then it came to him that this must be the embankment of the railroad spur track that served the prison. He would have to cross it some time—it might as well be now. He felt of the stone that extended up above him into the night. Granite, huge blocks of granite, just like the prison walls. This country was full of granite.

He began to climb, carefully, but it was farther to the top than he had expected and the strain of pulling himself up by his fingertips began to tell. He had no idea the track ran so far above the level of the land. He must have wandered into a low section. The ground had been nearly underfoot.

Up and up he went, and a surge of relief swept through him when his questing fingers at last felt the sharp ledge that meant he had reached the top. He allowed himself to swing clear of the wall for a moment, hanging suspended in blackness, before he made the final effort of throwing himself up and on to the tracks. That was the thrill of vertical climbing. Zingo had always said—to hang suspended in space while packed crowds below held their breath for the final spectacular swing. Zingo had climbed buildings with cornices that protruded three feet. Sometimes, Convict No. 614868 thought, he would practice climbing an overhang like that.

Fingertips Of Convict No. 614868 Were Hard And Strong As Claws.

Slowly, as Zingo would have done, he began swinging his body like a pendulum from the pivotal grip of his fingertips, describing wider and wider area, until, with a supreme surge, he threw his body up and over. Convict No. 614868 allowed himself to sprawl out, as he reached the peak of his swing, thinking how nice it was going to be to drop down on the high track and rest.

But there was no roadbed, no track, beneath him. He felt himself falling into space; at first with surprise and then with piercing pain as his fingers clawed for a grip where there was nothing to grasp, as the momentum of his body carried him completely over and past the top. He plunged down and down, and he heard only faintly the thud of his body. For an instant he was conscious of a multitude of flashing lights and what seemed to be the pouncing of running feet, and then all was a blackness greater than the night.

Some hours later, the chief guard made his report to the warden: "No 614868 climbed out on one side of the prison and climbed back in on the other side. The only way we can figure it out is that he followed the light of a small plane that was circling for an emergency landing. He must have struggled through the brush for hours, making a half circle back to the opposite prison wall. Why he climbed back in again, we don't know."

RECIPES

PRESSED JELLY VEAL

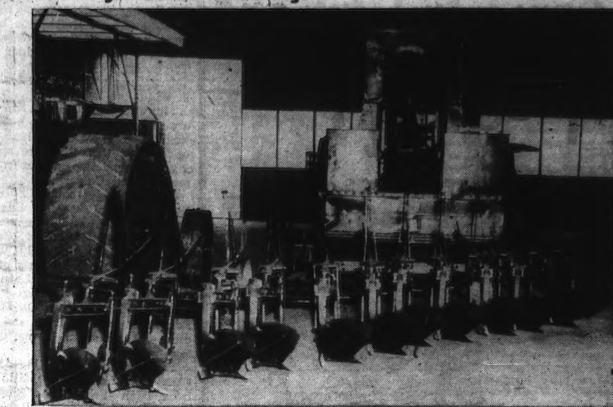

2½ pounds veal neck
1 veal shank
2 tablespoons salt
Water
6 cloves
1 bay leaf
8 allspice berries
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon gelatin (scant)
1 tablespoon vinegar
Wash the meat and add together with the spices to 2 quarts of water. Bring to a boil, skim off any scum, cover and simmer 1½ hours to 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Remove from the kettle, free from the bones and tendons and chop into large cubes (do not grind). Strain the stock through a cloth, return to the kettle and cook down if necessary so it measures not over 4 cups. Add gelatin, first soaked in a little cold water; chopped meat; pepper, vinegar and other seasonings if necessary. Pour into a mold and set in a cold place to set firmly. Unmold on a serving dish and garnish with pickled beets. Leftover pieces of the jellied meat may be reheated and poured into a smaller mold to reutilize. If this mold is to be kept for more than 3 or 4 days it is advisable to reheat and chill again in a clean mold.

HEADCHEESE

2 lbs. lean shin of beef
2 lbs. veal shank (including bones)
1 lb. lean pork
Salt and pepper to taste
1 teaspoon poultry dressing
Add sufficient water to cover and bring to boiling point. Simmer steadily for 3 hours. Remove meat from bones and also remove all bits of gristle and skin. Add seasoning and mix well. Press in mold to set.

Mrs. I. S. Reeds returned from Edmonton on Monday accompanied by her small grand-daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson of Islay spent the Father's Day weekend here with their daughter Mrs. Torrance.

Mrs. Parke was a business visitor in Edmonton last week. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Knudson are among the first of our Irmaites to go away on holiday. We understand that they are spending the next two weeks in Edmonton and Calgary.

If we just get enough of those little thunder showers! But it's going to take a lot to make enough. Mr. Henry Kasten of Carrot Creek is an Irma visitor this week. Mr. Art McLure formerly of the staff of Kirkman and McLean left Irma last week to take up a new position with the Rock Oil Co. in Edmonton. Mrs. McLure and Ardith will remain in Irma for a few weeks.

There will be a meeting of the FUA Irma Local No. 154 in the Irma High School on Tuesday, June 28th. A delegate will be nominated at this meeting.

Miss Marion Longmire of Lamont is holidaying in Irma and district. The Rev. H. W. Ingalls and Mr. C. L. Currie are on a fishing trip to Lake Muriel this week. Those fish might as well come to the surface and give themselves up. They will never stand a chance against two such keen sportsmen.

Mrs. McKean and Betsy called on Mrs. H. Lewis, the former Marjorie McFarland at Montreal on their way to Irma.

RE WINNIEP GRAIN EXCHANGE SURVEY

Results of the Freedom of Choice contest have now been announced by the judges.

In view of the interest aroused, we believe your readers would like to read the entry submitted by Mr. Dave J. Paterson of Westbourne, Man., who was awarded the first prize of $1,000.00 by these three independent judges:—

R. James Speers—Prominent farmer and live stock producer.
W. J. Wainess—Dean of Arts and Sciences, U. of Manitoba.
J. H. Evans—Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Province of Man.

"Freedom of Choice"

"Freedom of choice enables me to select the method that has proved most satisfactory to me, viz., the free market, for the following reasons:—

FIRST: Over a period of years it pays the best price to the producer. This was the finding of Sir Josiah Stamp, after long and careful investigation.

SECOND: This market takes all the grain I have to offer, enabling me to haul direct from the Combine handling, money invested in barge to the Elevator—saving storage space, and insurance. During the Control Period I have had Ten Thousand bushels of grain deteriorating on the ground, although there was room for it in the Elevator. I HAD DELIVERED MY QUOTA.

THIRD: It pays in full on delivery, saving interest—enabling me to meet my obligations.

FOURTH: The Hedging Privileges save storage charges, give me the use of my money, and enable me to sell at any time during the crop year. This system is used by everyone connected with the grain trade, reduces the risk, and enables the trade to pay more to the producer.

FIFTH: It is a competitive market and permits speculation—both of distinct benefit to the producer, with its wide connections;—

SIXTH: The present market system the safest, swiftest, most economical method of handling grain that has ever been devised.

"The alternative methods—Pools, Monopolies, Price Fixing—have all been tried down the years, and authority on Western Agriculture failed. Corn Hind, outstanding, when asked if she believed in Pools and Monopolies, answered 'Definitely, No—neither voluntary nor compulsory.'

"Governments can make a political issue out of grain handling, and, according to Canadian Courts are responsible to no one."

"Freedom is the Birthright of Man—what our Sons fought and died for during the two World Wars. MAY WE NEVER SURRENDER IT."

Speaking of Weed Spraying

What kind of chemical will you use? When are you going to spray?

Here's a few facts that will assist you in answering these two questions that are facing you right now.

There are three types of 2, 4-D chemical—

1. Sodium salt powder form, 70% to 80% acid content, requires 6 to 12 oz. acid per acre.
2. Amine salt liquid, 30% to 40% acid content, requires 4 to 10 oz. acid per acre.
3. Ester liquid, 30% to 40% acid content, requires 3 to 7 oz. acid per acre. Acts in 3 seconds.

In choosing a chemical then, you should decide which type is best suited for your crop and then you should get a brand that is known for its acid content and for results produced in tests. Here GREEN CROSS WEED-NO-MORE is outstanding as it is an ester solution it acts in 3 seconds and positive results have been obtained in your own district when weeds were well advanced and the spraying done in rainy weather. Spraying should not be done until grain crop is passed seedling stage—about five inches high. It is better to spray before a rain than after. Do not spray Clover or Alfalfa at any time.

These are but a few facts chosen from the many experiments—for further information we'd be glad to furnish literature or discuss your problems. Those who studied the results of experiments and applied the solutions accordingly are among those who are fully convinced that weed spraying is successful and a paying proposition. These chemicals offer a highly effective additional aid to weed control and are an outstanding contribution of science to modern farming.

country for Canada's June 27th federal election.

Their numbers are far short of the record of 954 who crowded the nominations lists in the 1945 general election, when there were only 245 commons seats at stake. The seat total has been swelled by 17 in this election—seven for Newfoundland and 10 for new constituencies created since 1945.

practically unanimous

YOU CAN still find people who "don't believe in banks" ... who keep their cash in old coffee pots, or hide it in the woodpile, or carry it around.

But most folk nowadays keep their money in bank accounts. They can get it whenever they want it; and they can pay their bills by cheque. Canadians have more than seven million such deposit accounts. In terms of Canada's adult population, that makes it practically unanimous.

The banks, in turn, know they must earn this confidence by giving you the best service they know how.

Today you can take your account to any bank you choose. And what is in your bank book is strictly between you and your bank. It is your own private business.
